Neither of them know how to dance.
Eridan still insists he's better at it though

After many hours working on this i realized that Dirk and Gamzee its not that good for a pairing and Dirk would probably get pissed by the Honks and then they would fight or...they would be good bros which i doubt lol

HELLO :D

i really like the dynamic they have and how they are the easiest kismesiship to understand. But they and the felt in general could be explored more.
happy cat emogee

eridan and nepeta are my favourite homestuck rarepair, so naturally, I wanted to draw them for this zine! I think that erinep works in all quadrants, but I picked caliginous for this zine because black erinep was the first variation of erinep I'd seen! I think they're super cute and would bring out the best in eachother, and maybe in another universe (where they survive) they could have been something!!

they r just cutie patooties, how could i not draw them?

when i was first getting into homestuck and learning about all the quadrants i remember being drawn to the auspicious one the most, the way that it functions fascinated me in some weird way and it still does! one of my favourite auspicious relationships was, and still is kanaya, tavros and vriska because of their whole dynamic, all of the characters had conflicting personalities and relationships that made me feel more invested each time i saw them.

tavros and dave had so much potential before hussie KILLED TAVROS OFF!! they were so obviously into each other trying to impress each other with their "sick beats". i think nepeta would help them come to the realization that theyre meant to be and just an overall emotional support!"
WHAT THE HELL IS THAT?! is he into homestuck tf ew >:(

John/June as mediator for Vriska and Terezi is so lovely to me. A beginners guide to surviving your tense and violent relationship with your girlfriend: get an additional girlfriend. (I'm also a vriska with contacts truther.)

auspisticism as autism is crazy

it was a brief interaction but the chat with eridan trying to get kanaya to auspitice him and vriska was kinda silly. also i wish we got to see more interactions between vriska and eridan....

Rose and Kanaya's relationship is kinda special to me, this is one of the couples that comes up pretty naturally and helped me know the characters better, how they complement each other and how benefits the both of them, so I drew them right after my favorite moment of the two in the comic! I love how they finally get to open up a bit better than with other characters, they support each other and I kinda wish that we could've seen a bit more of them and starting their relationship :3

:B

gamzee is a pretty unshippable character imo, but i think that he would work AMAZING with john, with john being his antithesis and all. they would improve each other sm and be so happy together u guys have no idea ...

GO FOR IT.

KARKAT!

@transientcuriosity

when i started reading homestuck in about june of 2023, i didnt know much about it- just that the two people who had introduced me to homestuck both liked davekat- one of these people is my boyfriend. with my little knowledge of the two characters i just trusted his judgement of the ship. as i quickly got obsessed with homestuck and started reading at a speed ive never read at before- i got engrossed in homestuck as well as davekat. i learnt that we both related to both dave and karkat but i related more to karkat and my boyfriend relates more to dave- and all that meant was that i would project my own relationship onto my two favourite characters. in the next few months ive learnt to really appreciate some of the other ships but this personal connection is one of the reasons davekat will always be a favourite of mine :3c

I wouldn't know what to say for this one drew. Since I started HS, this ship represented a lot to me and seeing that it has less content than it deserves, I wanted to contribute with this, a royal dance at Prospit Castle between the two

I thought it would look cute, thanks for this opportunity <333

I have mixed feelings about this pair but i overall think that they're sorta messy together, although they do have their moments.

They're just... little guys who would be buddies... but in all honesty I only recently came across this ship! I hadnt even considered it as an idea but like, I kinda get it :3, just.....2 weird little guys... being weird..

I think theyd be the kind to mess around together, going on little adventures to places together and be sillies trying not to get caught messing around at aisles in stores!

سین

i love john and dave. they are best friends and they are so cool. if they played smash bros, john would win

aeples

I can feel my robotic rumpass now.

JD

To be frank, the reason behind this specific pair of moiralls is a bit more complicated. I suppose in a retrospect the best example i could give for hal's new bud is Neon Genesis Evangelion, but that's still to be thoroughly explained. Robot pals tho, socially inept as well. Literally me.
